Read exact replicas of popular newspapers—online

Imagine instant online access to digital reproductions of popular newspapers' print editions—with sharp, full-color layouts that students and staff can easily read, navigate, search and print. NewsBank, inc., a leading provider of information for more than 35 years, has partnered with NewsStand, Inc. to offer Image e-Edition Newspapers—a collection of digital replicas of newspapers published in the U.S. and around the world. In addition to all news articles, these digital editions include photos and other graphics, advertisements, classifieds, weather reports, box scores, stock quotes, puzzles, cartoons and other content that is unavailable in full-text digital newspaper editions.

Convenient delivery of top-tier titles worldwide

Image e-Edition Newspapers are delivered online at the same time as their print counterparts—if not sooner—and they eliminate many of the problems common with newspapers in print, including distribution, limited copies, storage, archiving and damaged copies. The collection includes not only major U.S. titles such as The New York Times and The Washington Post, but also acclaimed journals and publications such as The New Scientist. Additionally, staff and users from around the globe can browse e-Editions of non-English newspapers in their original language: for instance, El País in Spanish, The Sekai Nippo in Japanese, etc. All Web browsers are supported, and no additional software is required.

Intuitive browsing, navigation, search and more

The Web-based format of Image e-Edition Newspapers enables staff and users to zoom in and out with the click of a button and pan in every direction to easily read articles of interest. They can also quickly jump between newspaper sections, print full pages or portions of a page, click on live links to other content online and perform keyword searches of a single issue or all current and archived issues.

The best of both worlds

Image e-Edition Newspapers combine the comprehensive content and attractive layouts of newspapers' print editions with the convenient, cost-effective delivery and enhanced functionality of Web-based publishing. Image e-Edition Newspapers are an excellent complement to full-text newspaper databases, and they can be made available to an unlimited number of users in different locations without per-access fees.
